"Winter lingering in the lap of spring" develops a fine crop of Colds, causing an increased demand for "Seventy-seven." Careless people change their garments too soon, and Colds are the inevitable result.

A dose of "Seventy-seven" taken at the first chill or shiver will break up the Cold, 25c, or mailed.

BRISTOL, Va., April 17.—Deputy Collector J. McRoon and Special Officer T. J. Young were caught, and were taken before a commissioner, when they gave bond for their appearance at court.

Six other moonshiners were given a lively chase, but escaped in the mountains. From here, the officers were this afternoon ordered to Wise county to locate and destroy other stills.

More Than 300 Citizens Sign Request for Local Option Election.

NO FORMAL CEREMONY

Said That Judge Will Name May 27 or June 3 for the Voting.

[Times-Dispatch Bureau, Petersburg, Va., April 17.]
The petition for a local option election in Petersburg was placed in the hands of Judge Mullen, of the Hustings Court this morning. It is signed by over 300 qualified voters, more than required to render the petition legal. There was no formal ceremony in the presentation and reception of the paper. Death of Mrs. Emmett Ragland.
Mrs. Rosa Hawkins Ragland, wife of Captain Emmett Ragland, after an illness of only several days of pneumonia, died last night about 10 o'clock at her residence on High Street. She was the daughter of the late John J. Hawkins, and was beloved by a large circle of friends. She is survived by her husband and five children.

The sales of tobacco this week were light, being officially reported by the clerk, B. McIlwaine, at 70,000 pounds, following the total sales for the season to date 5,665,705 pounds. W. D. Farley sold four lots of wrappers yesterday at the Virginia Warehouse at $14.25, $17.50, $19.50 and $30 per hundred pounds.

Interesting Event.
The most interesting event of Easter week, from a social and artistic viewpoint, was the Easter opera, "The Egyptian Princess," given by the vocal and resident students of the Southern Pioneers College in the Academy of Music in Petersburg on Friday night.

A representative and distinguished audience of 1,200 or 1,500 friends of the college filled the Academy completely. Admission was only by invitation, and the whole Academy was open to invited guests, with the exception of the boxes, which were reserved for the trustees of the college. The audience was the most brilliant of the year, and the interest and pleasure felt in the performance was evidenced by frequent and hearty applause.

The play itself was delightful, full of noble arias and tuneful choruses, all of which were rendered in artistic manner by the young women. It is quite an evidence of the excellence and thoroughness of the training that the whole opera went through without halt or hesitation from beginning to end. The play contains two acts of about an hour each, and the handsome stage setting and the beautiful and varied colors of the Egyptian costumes, with the shifting groups and stately marches, made a series of delightful stage pictures, worthy of special notice were the opening court scene, with the songs of Alva, the stately charms of Hathor, with the worship scene led by the Princess, the feasting scene of the Princess and the comic and typical songs of Tabula. In the second act, the incantation scene of Myssa and Phylla was followed by the martial trumpet chorus, after which came the pious scene of the court and the triumphal march of the King's return and the prayer of Hathor. The music of the opera at this point reached almost the effect of grand opera. The transition to the final scene was furnished by the song reveals of the court and the triumphal march of the King, and by the beautiful Egyptian dance of six of the young attendants of the Queen.

The rapid succession of rich pictures, with the inspiring music, by turns stately and catchy, gave a melody that will not soon be forgotten. The students of the college scored a real artistic triumph worthy of the traditions of the college, and were sure to add to the interest and pleasure of the Petersburg people in the success and achievement of that historic institution.

Personal and Otherwise.
Rev. S. C. Hatcher, D.D., of Farmville, visiting friends in the city, and will preach to his former congregation at Market Street Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Junius Williamson, a carpenter of this city, was quite severely bruised, and narrowly escaped broken bones yesterday by a fall from a building on which he was at work at Penitentiary Park, in Dinwiddie county.

J. N. Beck, authorized agent for the sale of the bonds of the county of Dinwiddie, issued a public notice, announcing that bids for the same will be received until May 1. The bonds will bear 4-1/2 per cent. interest, and will run for thirty years. The county is free of debt, and the bonds will sell well.

The brick residence of J. M. McSweeney, on West Tabb Street, was offered for sale at auction yesterday on a limit of $5,000, and was withdrawn on a bid of $5,350.

Sunday School Anniversary.

Rev. S. J. Burt, pastor of West Street Methodist Church, has been confined to his home by sickness for two weeks.

Mrs. B. Schenck, an aged resident of Dinwiddie county, was severely hurt by a fall some days ago, and one of her legs amputated at the hospital last night. Mrs. Schenck is seventy-two years old, and her husband, who was sixty-seven years of age, died only a few days ago.
